

On Saturday September 26th, 2020, The Haunt Rater made a special visit to Jason's Woods based out of Lancaster, PA. As the years go on, you tend to wonder if things really can get any better. You would think there is a "cap" or "ceiling" on how far one can go. Jason's Woods has proven that even in 2020, there is no stopping them and what they can do! No wonder they are known as "The Innovators and never the imitators!" This holds true now! If you want to see what craziness and terror, they are capable of then, visit Jason's Woods in 2020 before time runs out!

GRINDER

EARTHQUAKE

WRECKING MACHINE

Our night began being escorted down to the Horrifying Hayride to await our fate on the next wagon. When we were told that things would be better than last year, we had no idea what we were about to experience and just how true that statement would be. As we hopped aboard, we were presented the rules for hayride safety...but it would not remain safe for long! Ghouls and creatures of the night that lurk within Jason's Woods were awaiting each of us as we began our journey. As we made our way through, we experienced one of the best Hayrides we have ever been on in our entire lives!!! No Joke! It was insane and "OFF THE CHARTS!"

If you think we are wrong, go and experience this hayride for yourselves as it is unlike any other. Not only was the hayride a “thrilling” ride but the creatures that haunted the woods came out to play in full force! There was no doubt that Jason’s Woods was ready to have some fun! We won’t ruin it for you...Go and Experience it for yourself!

The Haunt Rater has officially named Jason’s Woods Haunted Hayride as the:

“#1 Haunted Hayride in America!”

We then headed over to “Lost In Jason’s Woods!” It is an outdoor trail like no other that plays on your fears. Meet nightmarish creatures only found in your dreams...deep in your dreams. If you are not careful, you may just get lost in Jason’s Woods and never find your way back out! Test your fate if you dare!

The Zombie Apocalypse housed all of the undead found in the Lancaster Valley. No souls would be at rest here. As we made our way through this "apocalyptic nightmare" we would soon discover just how fatal our journey would become. We tried to escape the clutches of the damned who would roam these parts, looking for a tasty meal and make us a part of the undead who would forever haunt this place!

Our next journey took us into the Chamber of Horrors and what a Horror it was! Upon entering, our sight was taken from us. The fog and smell of death was in the air. We didn't make it more than 5 feet when we were greeted by a restless soul who scared us out of our minds. Right out of nowhere! We were then directed toward our next path and it was a path we were not prepared to go down. Jason's Woods used many distractions well to take our minds away from the real terrors that lurked within and were in hiding, waiting to get us at the best planned opportunity! We were unsure we would survive the night and make it to our final attraction and yet we did survive but it was just barely that we made out with our lives. What an intense experience!!

CARNIVAL OF FEAR

The Carnival of Fear was our final destination...or so we thought. This place where evil lurks and hides in the shadows, where clowns are waiting to make you a permanent part of the show, was amazing and made your skin crawl in ways which were once perceived as unimaginable. A new addition will brighten your experience and increase the insanity that is inflicted upon your mind. This place had all the right fears in all the right places and the ghouls and ghosts within knew what they were doing when we came looking for them.

Jason's Woods did an incredible job, an amazing job, a TOP NOTCH JOB! They have definitely proven their worth, their talent, their knowledge, and their ability to bring a #1 Haunted Attraction to their fans! Amazing Job to all from the performers, to the staff and the owners!
