

WALDORF ESTATE OF FEAR

On Saturday October 3rd, 2020, The Haunt Rater made the journey on over to Waldorf Estate of Fear. COVID-19 has changed the way that some haunted attractions have chosen to operate, and you can see that at Waldorf Estate of Fear. But the changes made here are simply awesome! The Haunted House has been amped up. Do not think that because they cannot touch you, they will not be able to scare you. This is not the case by any means! The hayride has been changed to a walkthrough which was combined with "Infection", now going by the name "City of Horrors"! It truly is a horrifying experience. If anything, COVID has opened the minds of our friends here at Waldorf Estate of Fear to a whole new way to scare and bring fear to the hearts of their patrons.

AT THE... WALDORF HOTEL

We started out our night of pleasure and terror at the Waldorf Hotel. Before entering, rules are made clear and expectations are put in place for what lies ahead. Upon entering, you meet the "Bellhop" who sent chills straight up our spines! From there we were greeted by fiendish ghouls of the night who were ready to give us a frightful experience to never forget. Remember, "Don't Touch Anything or you will regret it!" We were thinking to ourselves, "why did we think this was a good idea to enter this hotel?" The creatures within made us rethink our decisions for sure. As you make your way through the halls and rooms you will experience fear only found in your nightmares. If you want a frightening experience, the Waldorf Hotel is the place for you!

CITY OF HORRORS
OFFICE OF THE CORONER

After making it out alive from the Waldorf Hotel, we headed on over to “City of Horrors!” This is where you literally become a part of the show. You do not just walk through it...you live it! That is something that we have not seen in many other places. To make you feel like you are a part of the show, that takes a unique skill and way of thinking to effectively pull off and that has been well done here! Seeing the Hayride Scenes close up and personal and living each scene made it seem and feel so much more real than ever before. No longer being in the safety of a wagon made the experience even more terrifying than ever before. The level of fear has been turned up to “INSANE” really quick here at Waldorf Estate of Fear. It is an outdoor trail like no other that plays on your fears. Meet nightmarish creatures only found in your dreams...deep in your dreams. If you are not careful, you may just get lost in Jason’s Woods and never find your way back out! Test your fate if you dare! Check this new attraction out before 2020 comes to an end!

Zombie Paintball Hunt Training Camp was a new yet amazing experience. Sergeant Fuzzy Nuts and Sergeant “Hate” or so he called himself as he made it quite clear that he did not love us (Insert sad face here, LOL). We got the PG-15 version and let us tell you...ask for that version when you go. It makes it such a fun and awesome experience. Not only do you get to shoot Zombies and make “bells ring” but you get the best experience that can be offered by two “characters”.

We were on Team Bravo. You can also be on Team Fox Trot if you so choose. But choose wisely as you do not want to run out before the end, or the damned will make you their meals. Zombie Paintball Hunt is an unforgettable and fun experience that you do not want to miss out on.

We want to congratulate the Owners and all Staff at Waldorf Estate of Fear for an amazing job well done during such a difficult season. Not only did they take the proper precautions to ensure the safety and health of their patrons, but they also give you a great experience that you will take to your GRAVE!

Waldorf Estate of Fear is the #1 Show in Pennsylvania and is a must see for the 2020 Haunt Season! Do not Miss Out!

"If it is a show you want...it is a show you will get!"
